Gen. Salazar of the Liberals Makes a Forced March-Aubert's Daring Work.

MEXICO CITY, March 28 .- A report has been received here that Gen. Aubert, who has been engaged with the rebels near Jimenez, Chibuahua, has been killed by a dynamite bomb and that Gen. Villa hes been captured and executed. JIMENEZ, Chihuahun, Mexico, March 28. 1:05 P. M. Gen. Aubert is now surrounded at twenty miles west of here, according to official advices from the front. The Liberals say there is no chance for him, as he has been driven off the line of communication and is pressed on all sides. Aubert succeeded in making his escape under cover of darkness last evening, and this morning at daylight, when the Libera's opened with heavy artillery fire. there was no response.

Gen. Salazar ordered pursuit immediately. Shortly after 6 o'clock the start was made. Down the plain, covered with grass and trees, they pressed on cautiously, thinking it a ruse on the part of Auber. Several times the Liberal artillery pounded to draw the fire, but none came, oo the march kept on.

Reaching the open plain in the valley facing the former position held by Aubert. no sign of the Federals was visible except abandoned camp fires scattered on the sides of the mountains. The pursuers pressed hurriedly on to gain the heights. Five miles off a small thin moving speck could be seen. It was the Federals, and the order to march forward was given

TURMOIL IN MEXICO.

State Department Gets News of the Grave Situation.

WASHINGTON, March 28. That the revolution in Mexico is now rapidly nearing a crisis is the opinion of the Washington authorities, based on despatches ve ceived at the State Department to-day from the consular and diplomatic representatives in Mexico. These despatches show that the Federals have been defeated and driven almost entirely out of Chihuahua with general demoralization throughout the entire Federal army and that the revolutionary movement is grew ing throughout the republic. The greatfuture exists in Mexico city.

The rebels at first appeared to have been dealt a staggering blow by the reso lution of the American Government amending the neutrality laws by which the President issued a proclamation forbidding the shipment of war materials into Mexico. It now develops, however, that the revolutionists either procured a formidable supply of arms and ammunition by means of border shipments before the proclamation was issued or else they are managing to evade the vigilance of the American authorities. The authorities deny this alternative.

The rebels are now seeking control of Mazatlan on the west coast, which would afford them a means of bringing in material by sea if they can get it from the United

State Department officials characterized as preposterous the report from New York that fifty cases of rifles had been shipped by a Ward line steamer to-day billed to the American Ambassador at Mexico city. It was declared that there is no reason for desiring the legation to have arms and if there was a reason such shipment could not be made by either individuals or the Government, in the face of the President's proclamation.

To-day's advices from the American Embassy say that consternation, coupled with fears as to the future, prevails in Mexico city, where it is thought that the success of Gen. Orozco in Chihuahua will be followed by serious events in the capital and throughout the republic.

Beports from the consulate at Mazatlan away.

indicate that the Governor of the State of Sinaloa and the prefect of Mazatlan have resigned, indicating their sympathy with the revolution. Ninety Federal troops are reported to have arrived there and the town is said to be quiet, but in expectation of a rebel attack soon.

Late reports from consular representatives in Chihuahua indicate that the Federals following their series of defeats have retreated southward as far as Torrehave retreated southward as far as Torrehave retreated southward as far as Torreon, destroying the railroads behind them to check the rebel pursuit. One report from southern Chihuahua indicates that the Federals experienced three disastrous defeats, suffering heavily. The number of men engaged on either side and the casualties are not estimated. To-day's despatch from the same Consul, however, confirms the reports from other sources in southern Chihuahua of heavy Federal defeats.

Since the defeat of the Federals in Chihuahua the situation is made all the more serious for the Madero Go ernment, according to the State Department's information, by the renewed activities of Gen. Zapata below Mexico city. The Federals are said to be weak there and Zapata is reported as having demanded the surrender of Puebla, an important State capital just south of Mexico city. This is acaused great uneasiness in thenational capital.

While it was declared to-day there have been no developments to warrant a content of the content of Matty Pitches Shutout Game for Composite Club.

Mosile, Ala., March 28.—Two carloads of Giants commanded by John McGraw arrived here this morning. The squad had hardly reached quarters in the hotel before they were greeted by Manager Mike Finn and their former comrades, Martin Jacobson and Gus Gardella. The New Yorkers breakfasted and then went New Yorkers breakfasted and then went immediately to the park, where they put in some hard practice. Shortly after midday a rainstorm blew up and the weather looked so threatening that the game scheduled for this afternoon was called off. In spite of gloomy skies McGraw took his men to the park again, and his judgment was justified, for that particular rain proved to be but a passing shower. About 6 o'clock, however, there was a miniature cloudburst, and as storm ignals are flying above the eyrle of the weather man, things do not look promising for the double header scheduled for weather man, things do not look promising for the double header scheduled for to-morrow.

Determined not to waste the afternoon, McGraw and Robinson organized two teams and played a six inning game. Robbie captained the regulars, for whom Crandall pitched, McGraw's team was made up of a mixture of New York and Mobile players. The little Napoleon himself played second: Burns, left field: Jacobson was in centre, Gardella at third and Maxwell in right. George Rohe, the man who once won a world's series for the White Sox, played first base. Flannery caught and Mathewson pitched.

McGraw's half and half's made but two hits from Otey Crandall's offerings. Nevertheless they won the game by a score of 2 to 0. Errors by Fletcher and Shafer, who played second in place of Doyle, and a two bagger by Jacobson did, the damage. After this but two men reached first on Crandall, one of these being McGraw, who made his team's second and last hit.

The regulars got five hits from Matty and would have scored had it not been for some wild base running. Devore and Merkle secured doubles from Big Six, while Shafer, Snodgrass and Crandall found him for one single aplece.

The prime object of the meeting was to discuss the financial prospects. Those present were assured by Col. Thompson that they need not worry He stated that if the Red Star Line would make a 5 per cent. reduction on the $110,000 he would let them have a check for the amount less the reduction in a day or two.

A letter was received from W. F. Humbries, the Olympic representative on the Pacific coast, that by the second week in April he would be able to forward the sum of $1,000. Georgetown University sent a note that it would open a subscription list for the students and other friends of athletics in and around Washington.

Before the meeting adjourned Col. Thompson said that he would open a new subscription list, among the members of the New York A. C. with a donation of $500. He said he hoped that an additional $5,000 from the Mercury Foot club would be the result. Already a handsome sum has been sent on hy members of the club in answer to the subscription dards mailed about two weeks ago. Col. Thompson said the new subscription list would be on a bigger scale. It was decided at the meeting to ask the Swedish Olympic committee for further information on the competitive rules. Sullivan said that the American athletes will have to be fully informed on the technical points of the Swedish bylaws and regulations.

A. H. Curtis said he would be one of a party of ten on the Finland with the team and there were also accounts of parties being mustered from Boston, Chicago, San Francisco and Los Angeles. James E. Sullivan, Sullivan would make Although Frank Moran of Pittsburg made a fierce rally in the last round he was outpointed by a small margin by Tom Kennedy of this city in a "washerwoman" the Navi scored twenty-two times. With Several substitutes in the last period, the Scoring was not so rapid.

The lineup:

all the time. He jabbed Moran's face until it was swollen and bleeding, but he could not put enough power into his blows to stop the Pittsburg boxer. Kennedy also ducked so well that many of Moran's heavy right hand swings were harmless.

Whenever Moran landed one of these punches, however, he slowed Kennedy to walk, but he couldn't follow up these advantages and lost many valuable changes to win.

Kennedy carried off the honors in the first round with clean cut left hand work Moran received slight blows in the that drew the blood and seemed to be be-wildered. Moran landed two dangerous right handers on the neck in the second round, but Kennedy again outpointed him with sharp jabs and hooks. The third round was Kennedy's, because of similar tectics, but in the fourth Moran began to tear in and slug.

A wild swing sent Kennedy reeling into the ropes. Moran was too slow in his attack and the local man soon steadjed himseif. Half a dozen right hander on Kennedy's jaw failed to drop him in the fifth round although he was evi dently weak when he reached his corner Moran kept up his aggressiveness in the Sports Athletes.
